

PAINT WITH DANDELIONS

With spring here Dandelions are in abundance. We want to show you how these aren't just weeds they are a fabulous resource for imagination. This nature craft combines physical activity with imagination which leads to conversation.

Materials:

- Dandelions
- Paper

Step 1: With the beautiful sunshine these flowers are popping up everywhere. Collect as many dandelions as you think you'll need for your artwork.

Step 2: Use the head for painting by simply pressing the head onto your paper. Experiment by making patterns or use the colour to embellish a drawing.

Step 3: Think of any other materials in nature that could put colour onto your paper and test it out.
