

AFTER

Where does your mind go when considering these statements?

This is the entrance of the Montrose Cultural Centre! Since our Gallery is located inside the Centre, the building was allowed to open for library users shortly in March/April 2021, and again for vaccinations and access to the the coffee shop.

During this time, we've installed the first few posters of Justin Langlois' Decisions, Decisions poster series to the entrance. We are pleased to see the public interacting with the work!

Upon reopening, you can look forward to this larger collaborative structure and participate by voting on his red Decisions, Decisions poster series, by taking a tear-away poster, or a button.

BEFORE

Where does your mind go when considering these statements?

This is the entrance of the Montrose Cultural Centre! Since our Gallery is located inside the Centre, the building was allowed to open for library users shortly in March/April 2021, and again for vaccinations and access to the the coffee shop.

During this time, we've installed the first few posters of Justin Langlois' Decisions, Decisions poster series to the entrance. We are pleased to see the public interacting with the work!

Upon reopening, you can look forward to this larger collaborative structure and participate by voting on his red Decisions, Decisions poster series, by taking a tear-away poster, or a button.